

Gillian Vodnik Artist Statement

Series: Exploring the possibilities through paint.

A series of six paintings inspired by the surrounding environment that I moved to, in the summer of 2022. I was exploring a new location, new scenery and new possibilities. My love of physical texture shows up in these paintings and the use of a limited palette kept the focus on those textural elements. The changing seasons influenced the color choices and moving from a state of upheaval to a more settled and calm day to day, shows up in the lessening of visual energy in the mark making.
